Day 2: CALGARY TO BANFF NATIONAL PARK - This morning leave the high rises of Calgary behind when you board the bus for the drive through the rolling hills of ranch country under blankets of snow to the holiday town of Banff. The first easy hike is up Tunnel Mountain for the best views of the Bow River Valley with the Banff town site and to get a feel for winter walks in the mountains. In this two-three hour hike you gain 260 m over 4.8 km return. Your guide has suggestions for optional activities like a visit to the Sulphur Mountain Hot Springs, or one of the museums and galleries. Tonight after a warm up in the hotel, find out what night life in the busy little holiday town of Banff is all about. 2 nights hotel in Banff.

Day 3: BANFF NATIONAL PARK - Johnston Canyon beckons to be explored. Narrow catwalks built into the canyon walls allow walking right along the cathedral of frozen waterfalls with airy views into the gorge below where nature creates new ice sculptures every winter. Two or three hours hiking time brings a 120 m elevation gain during the 5.2 km return trip. Later there is time to try the thrill of sliding downhill on a tube under the night sky at Mount Norquay ski area just above Banff.

Day 4: LAKE LOUISE - The day begins with a gondola ride (included) up to the top of 2281 m Sulphur Mountain with views of six mountain ranges and Banff town site nestled far below in the valley of the meandering Bow River. The Trans Canada Highway leads you through picture postcard scenery to the high alpine village of Lake Louise right in the heart of the Rockies. Why not try ice skating on frozen Lake Louise with Victoria Glacier as a backdrop and surrounded by mountain giants. Rental skates are available. 2 night's hotel in Lake Louise

Day 5: LAKE LOUISE - Snowshoes (included) are required for today's hike up the forested trail to take in the view of frozen Lake Louise and the giant luxury Chateau on its shores. If this 7 km hike with a 400 m gain does not keep you warm, you can treat yourself in one of the elegant restaurants of the Chateau. Rental cross country skis are available for those ready to slice through the snow on the trails along the lake shore.

Day 6: ICEFIELDS PARKWAY TO JASPER - World famous Icefields Parkway winds its way all the way up to the immense glaciers of the Columbia Icefields and slowly back down into Jasper National Park. Snowy mountain scenery with glaciers, silent forests, frozen rivers and with luck some animals call for numerous photo stops and awe inspiring views. This makes today's spectacular 235 km drive a full day. 4 night's hotel in Jasper.

Day 7: JASPER NATIONAL PARK - Winter sports don't usually include bike riding, but fat tire bikes are ideally equipped to handle the snow and ice. This morning's cycle trip (included) through trees and over ice covered lakes on bikes with tires almost twice the size of summer mountain bike tires. This epic winter sport allows cyclists to stay on top of the snow rather than fight against it. Perhaps the hotel's hot tub calls tonight to warm and soothe muscles.

Day 8: JASPER NATIONAL PARK - The Canyon Crawl (included) is today's highlight. The Maligne River which rages through the up to 50 m deep canyon in summer now lies silent in winter's grip. With crampons strapped to your boots and with instructions of local guide you walk up the narrow gorge where icicles and frozen waterfalls decorate the limestone cliffs and the absolute silence make every crack of the ice sound like an explosion. For the evening the guide suggests a visit to Jaspers Dark Sky Preserve where you can cap off the day with star gazing free from any light pollution. If the clouds don't cooperate, there is usually a hockey game or curling match to watch in town.

Day 9: JASPER NATIONAL PARK - Planned for today is a snowshoe trek into the Valley of the Five Lakes, a quiet oasis where the snow adds an extra silencer to sounds. Wildlife is still active in the winter: snowshoe hares, deer, elk, coyotes, perhaps a moose can make appearances today. This 4.5 km loop with minimal elevation gain offers a relaxed 2-3 hours of hiking. Among the fun options for this afternoon are a Downtown Foodie Tour where during a short 1.5 km walk you visit four restaurants, tasting four handpicked dishes paired with alcoholic treats and listening to Jasper stories.

Day 10: EDMONTON - Driving east the landscape changes from mountains to forested foothills, then to prairie farms and cattle ranches. Early afternoon is arrival in Edmonton, Canada's premier winter city. From ice castles to flying canoes; festivals are alive in Edmonton throughout the winter. Experience how residents of Canada's most northern major city celebrate winter. For those who want to leave the cold behind there is giant West Edmonton Mall, one of the largest indoor shopping and entertainment centers in the world, with a wave pool, mini golf, amusement park, casino and hundreds of stores and places to eat under one warm roof.

Day 11: Transfer from the hotel to Edmonton International Airport. Perhaps plan an extra day to enjoy the winter city of Edmonton before planning your flight home.
